IF ever I go into a new locality again, I will study up my geography better standing with others on the deck, when a very pretty young lady came up to me and with a sweet smile on her face, looked into mine with a pair of loyely eyes, and asked, "Are you going to kiss me, sir?" If some one had offered to lend me ten dollars I could not have been more surprised, and hardly knowing what to say, and in order to gain a little time, I gasped out, "Pardon, Miss, what did you ask?" I felt that she knew I heard her, but she said sweetly, "Are you going to kiss me to-night?" There was no misunderstanding her this time. I heard her, and so did others, and I felt the blood rushing into my face, and I stamblood rushing into my face, and I stam-mered out, "I would like to accommo-date you, Miss, I would truly, but I have a wife and thirteen small children on board with me, and if my wife should see me kissing you—" "Kissing me, you hateful old thing! who asked you to kiss me?" 'You did," I yelled; "you asked me twice!" "You old fool, I asked you if you were going to Kissima Kissima if you were going to Kissime—Kissime City to-night; don't you know any-thing?" and off she went, and if ever anybody felt meaner than I did I would like to exchange photographs with him.
